Living in Washington.

There is a general complaint again among members of congress about the high cost of living at the capital, and a number of the old members have declined further service there largely on that account. Judge Forney, of Alabama, a long time friend and associate of Samuel J. Randall, will not go back to Washington at the next session simply because he finds the renomination of Mr. Herbert, chairman of the committee on naval affairs, and Representative Peel, of Arkansas, the chairman of the committee on Indian affairs, old experienced members, have also voluntarily retired. Mr. Blount, of Georgia, who has served in the house for twenty years and as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, also declined a renomination.

Mr. Lanham, of Texas, and several other members will not be in the next house because they find that they are wearing their lives out in the public service without being able to accumulate anything for the support of their families. Five thousand dollars a year will not pay the expenses in Washington of any member with a family who attempts to live as a member of congress is expected to do it here. There are a good many members who pay more than that for house rent, while there are senators who pay from $12,000 to $18,000 a session for mere living expenses at a hotel.—Philadelphia Press.

Went to Prison for Another.

Among the convicts pardoned by the governor under the influence of Christian charity was George Beni, a Sicilian, who was sent up seven months ago for five years for stealing a watch. Angelo Milazzo, another Sicilian and a chum of Beni's, was also suspected, but as it was shown at the trial that Beni had pawned the watch and he refused to implicate Milazzo, he was spared the penalty. At the time it was whispered among the Italians here that Beni was not guilty of the theft, but had sacrificed himself to save Milazzo, the real criminal, because the latter had a helpless family dependent upon him.

A month ago Milazzo died, and then the whole truth came out. It appeared that Beni had actually done as reported, and after his friend Angelo was beyond the reach of the law he acknowledged that he was suffering wrongfully. A petition for his pardon was immediately sent to the governor, signed by the judge who tried the case, together with the story of Beni's self-sacrifice, and the pardon was issued.—Memphis Cor. St. Louis Republic.

The Champion Telephone City.

Nearly 8,000,000 "bellos" have passed under the feet of the bustling crowds through the wires of the Bell Telephone company during the year ended Dec. 25. These "bellos" were uttered by the 8,250 subscribers of the company within the district bounded by the Delaware and Schuylkill rivers, Kensington and "the neck." In the surrounding districts, such as West Philadelphia, Frankford and Camden, over 1,000,000 more have traveled over connecting lines into the main or local district. The latter district now makes about 20,000 connections a day, or an average of 8 for each of the 8,250 subscribers. This is a great increase over the previous year, when there were but 8,100 subscribers within the district.—Philadelphia Record.

It is Smoke Cost an 11¢.

William Kenton, of Greenburg, Ind., bought of a retail dealer some time ago a package of tobacco. Filling his pipe from the sack, Kenton lit it and began to smoke. A metal cap filled with powder or some explosive in the tobacco exploded and the cap struck Kenton in the right eye. Kenton lost his eyesight. He sues Black & Bro., manufacturers, of Wheeling, for $10,000 damages. Jurisdiction is obtained by attachment and garnishment, also by service of process on their traveling agent here today. The case will be set for trial at the coming February term of court.—Cor. Chicago Herald.

Connecticut Terrian.

The natural haunt of the terrian is mud at a point where the tides meet the waters of rivers, or, to use the words of the Board of Trustees of the Connecticut Terrian, "where th' water's brashish." Back of the meadows at lie along the cast shore of the Connecticut river are flats that at low tide are bare, but which are covered with five feet of water when the tide is up. On these flats terrian are found from early spring until the river freezes over.

THE SILVER QUESTION IN ENGLAND

The silver question bids fair to become a political issue in England as it now is in the United States, and it is a matter for regret that Gladstone, the recognized leader of the Liberal party, is somewhat imbued with mono-metallic ideas. A motion in the House of Commons that the British Government should use its influence to bring about the reassembling of the International Monetary Conference was opposed by Gladstone and rejected by a vote of 229 to 198.

In opposing the motion Mr. Gladstone was not unreasonable. He reminded the House that the Conference met at the initiative of the United States and it would be an unprecedented proceeding now to deprive the United States of the initiative. England had followed the Brussels discussion with more or less sympathy and had a right to expect from the United States a declaration as to what steps that country proposed to take next. It would place the British Government in a ridiculous position if it should assume the initiative in reopening the Conference having nothing to recommend for discussion.

To that Mr. Gladstone was undoubtedly right. President Harrison's administration proposed the Conference and invited European nations to participate in its proceedings. It was proposed as a political scheme to quiet the free coinage sentiment of this country during the Presidential campaign. A majority of the delegates selected by the President to represent the United States at the Conference were opposed to free coinage. The delegates did not agree on the silver question. They had nothing to recommend as distinctively American, and the Conference, as was predicted by the free coinage men, accomplished nothing. Gladstone does not propose that his government shall ask the Conference to assemble again until it has something to recommend for discussion. The fact that a motion relating to silver has been introduced and discussed in the British House of Commons shows, however, that the question of bimetallism is being agitated in England as well as in the United States, and will doubtless become a political issue there as well as here.

If the Brussels Conference meets again the American representatives should go there instructed to declare that the United States believes in the full monetization of silver and will adopt that policy by opening its Mints to silver, as well as gold, by repealing the infamous demonetization Act of 1873.

NEW MEN FOR THE OFFICES.

There is weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth among those who held Federal offices under Mr. Cleveland's administration. The cause is the announcement by members of the new Cabinet that the President has determined that new men shall be selected for the places at his disposal. He takes the position that his former appointees should have sought other means of obtaining a livelihood after losing the office when Harrison became President. That they did not appear from the fact that they are now seeking reappointment. They have been waiting for a change of administration, hoping that when it occurred they would be reinstated in their former positions, and he does not believe in encouraging the formation of a class of office-seekers. As to his defeat, he says, he thought no man of office holding, devoted himself assiduously to the practice of his profession and was making a good living. He did not seek a recompensation and only yield as a matter of duty and in compliance with the will of the people. It would have been unseemly for him to have sought the Presidency again, and he thinks it unseemly for those who were appointed to office during his administration to press their claims for reappointment.

This is said by members of the Cabinet to be the substance of Mr. Cleveland's conversation to friends of men who are trying to get back in the offices they occupied when he was President. They are being told emphatically that their efforts will be of no avail as Mr. Cleveland has made up his mind to appoint new men to the Federal positions. He has done so in making up his Cabinet, and those who have heard his remarks on the subject say he will adhere to that policy throughout.

AN UNJUST LAW.

The laws of Nevada relating to witnesses in criminal cases are ultra-equally unjust. If a person's testimony is required by the prosecution and that person resides without the county his expenses are allowed by the Court and paid out of the county treasury, but if his evidence is in favor of the accused he is considerably permitted to pay his own expenses and if he fails to obey the order of the District Judge he is liable to fine or imprisonment or both for contempt of Court. There have been two practical illustrations of the injustice of this law in the State vs. R. W. Lewis. A year ago last Fall this case came up for trial at Winnemucca. Two citizens of Reno were subpoenaed as witnesses. It cost them time and money to obey the order of the Court. The defendant was declared insane by a jury and he was committed to the Asylum. His reason having been restored the case came up for trial this week at Winnemucca. The witnesses were again served by the sheriff with an order signed by the District Judge to be and appear in the courtroom at Winnemucca at a stated time. Again they obeyed the decree at their own expense.

This method of procedure should be changed by Act of the Legislature. If witnesses residing outside the county in which a case is being tried, are subpoenaed by the prosecution, the county pays their expenses; if subpoenaed by the defense they must pay their own expenses. It would seem that in this enlightened age the State should take as much interest in establishing the innocence as in proving the guilt of a person accused of the commission of a crime, and that when it is made apparent to a District Judge that the evidence of a person is material the person should receive the same consideration from the State as when his evidence tends to establish the innocence of the accused as when it tends to prove his guilt. The State ought not to discriminate so unfairly against a defendant and the Legislature should see that it does not by changing the present law.

THE STEELE-FOX MINING CASE.

Steele-Fox Mining Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—The trial of the accounting suit of Oscar O. Steele, the original owner of the ground occupied as a mining claim by the West Consolidated Virginia mine, against M. W. Fox and other directors of the corporation was resumed before Judge Slack to-day.

The principal witness was M. J. Mertens, who testified to a series of interviews had with Fox before Steele brought his action.

In substance he said Fox at first told him that Steel's interests in the blind pool were between 22,000 or 23,000 shares, but subsequently he told witness that Steele's interests were only 680 shares. Witnessed Fox it happened that there was no money on hand for Mr. Steele and no stock. Fox answered that he believed Mr. Steele had given orders when absorbed his interest, one to S. T. Curtis for 9,250 shares and the other to himself (Fox) for 12,560 shares. But if he was not interfered with he would shortly make a deal that would make Mr. Steele a large amount of money.

For started farther that about two months previously Mr. John W. Mackay was in San Francisco and he had informed Mackay that the Consolidated Virginia & California Mining Company had extracted a large amount of money out of the mining claim of the West Consolidated and that he wanted him (Mackay) to make a settlement. Mr. Mackay informed him in reply that the master should be investigated and he (Mr. Mackay) would give W. T. Baggett an opportunity to look into the matter and that if Baggett would go to Virginia City he could do in conjunction with one of Mr. Mackay's men survey the mine and ascertain the facts of the case.

For sent Baggett to Virginia City and he was informed that an order had been sent by Mr. Flood forbidding him admission and Mr. Baggett was compelled to return to San Francisco.

Merten's aid Fox also threatened that if the pool was broken that he would slap on an assessment of 25 cents per share right away.

For informed witness that the certificate for 22,400 shares was standing in the name of Mr. Curtis was undivided and that he knew of a way to have Mr. Curtis divide that stock and give an order for it to Mr. Steele. He added, however, that Mr. Curtis claimed his stock.

P. Amereng, a director in the Justice, said he had not heard that Mr. Fox had agreed to refund whatever money was paid to him by his friends for the West Consolidated Virginia stock in case the stock did not sell for more than they had paid for it.

Could Accuse Nothing Corrupt

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The Panama Investigating Committee made a report saying it had done its utmost in the limited time before it to investigate the charge of money expended to prevent opposition to the plans of the canal. It had been unable thus far to find directly or indirectly the expenditure of any money whatever in a corrupt way to influence legislative or executive action in the United States Government.

The committee recommends that the Post Master General be authorized to terminate the contracts with lines of vessels entering into combinations to diminish traffic or raise the freight rates, and to conclude on says:

"The obvious deduction from the facts shown is that the American people should absolutely control some outlet across the Isthmus as an open and continuous traffic competition."

Weather Forecast.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—The forecast for Nevada is fair weather and warmer in the western portion.

Arrival of Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The special train bearing President-elect Cleveland and party arrived at the Baltimore & Ohio station at 6:30 o'clock this evening. An immense throng of people surrounded the station, all eager to get a glimpse of the next President. A mighty shout went up when Cleveland's presence was known.

With great difficulty a passage was cleared, and the President-elect, on the arm of Colonel Burnett, chairman of the Inaugural Committee, bowing acknowledgments, made his way to a carriage and drove to the Arlington Hotel. Assistant Chairman Norris of the Inaugural Committee escorted Mrs. Cleveland, and behind them was Mr. Cleveland's infant daughter in the arms of her nurse. The party arrived at the Arlington about 6:50 o'clock. A small crowd of people gathered in front of the hotel to see the party arrive. Perfect order was maintained, and there was no demonstration of any kind.

Mrs. Cleveland was the first to alight, and she was followed by the President-elect, the maid and nurse with little Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Lument, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Gilder, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bryant, E. C. Benedict and family, Mrs. S. M. Williams and daughter and Robert O'Brien, Mr. Cleveland's personal secretary. The members of the party were immediately shown to their apartments.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The Postoffice Appropriation bill was taken up in the Senate to-day, and Calhoun made a statement as to the amount of the appropriation, showing the department practically self-sustaining.

The Indian Appropriation bill was then taken up, amended and passed, and Hale moved to proceed to the consideration of the Deficiency bill.

House.

There was an unusually large audience in the galleries, which was the only evidence of the approach of the end of the present Congress. The House was waiting for the Senate to act on appropriation bills, and for an hour did practically nothing. Finally it took up the President's veto of the Alabama court bill, the question being on its passage over the veto.

The Alabama court bill passed over the veto, and the House took up the report on the Sundry Civil bill.

Accepted the Invitation.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The Navy Department has received answers from all the gentlemen invited to participate in the great naval display in honor of the discovery of America.

Austria, Turkey and Greece, including Rumania and Servia, were obliged to decline the invitation to participate. The reason given in each case being that no vessels were available. Germany and Russia will accept. Russia will send a large fleet and will probably have the largest representation of any nation in the ceremonies. Great Britain accepted the invitation. Italy will send three cruisers and perhaps a transport. Spain will be represented by three cruisers and a gunboat. France virtually accepted the invitation to participate but no vessels are as yet designated. Brazil will send on board two cruisers and from the Netherlands will come a frigate.

Pope Leo's Birthday

ROME, March 2.—This is the birthday of Pope Leo, who was born March 2, 1810. The Cardinals now in Rome made a visit of congratulation to his Holiness who received them in the throne room of the Vatican. They presented an address congratulating the Pope on the advanced age which Providence had permitted him to attain and expressing earnest wishes for the prolongation of his life.

In replying to the address Pope Leo expressed gratitude to God for having permitted him to serve the Church for so many years. He said the enthusiasm attending the jubilee added lustre and glory to the Church.

Harrison Accepts a Professorship.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—President Harrison this evening accepted a professorship in the Leland Stanford University of California. He will deliver a series of lectures on constitutional law commencing in October next. He had the matter under consideration some weeks, but did not signify his formal acceptance until this evening.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms.

Disease—After eating, dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently, tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a

"August Flower"

The BOA J. W. Pennimore is the Sheriff of Kent Co., Del., and lives at Dover, the County Seat and Capital of the State. The sheriff is a gentleman fifty-nine years of age, and this is what he says: "I have used your August Flower for several years in my family and for my own use, and found it does me more good than any other remedy I have been troubled with what I call Sick Headache. A pain comes in the back part of my head first, and then soon a general headache until I become sick and vomit. At times, too, I have a fullness after eating, a pressure after eating at the pit of the stomach, and sourness, when food seems to rise up in my throat and mouth. When I feel this coming on if I take a little August Flower it relieves me, and is the best remedy I have ever taken for it. For this reason I take it and recommend it to others as a great remedy for Dyspepsia, &c."
